

Time Temp Displays

LED Time Temperature Displays

These displays alternate between the current time and temperature. They have the ability to create awareness to static advertising message, ensuring the signage remains a landmark in the local area

These displays are the most accurate and sophisticated displays on the market today, with all units supplied with an advanced weather station housing, sealed temperature sensor and GPS receiver for the ultimate in time keeping

As most time/temp displays are installed in difficult to get at places like pylon signs, billboards or rooftops, this system is supplied with a radio transmitter to adjust the time when first installed and for daylight saving. The transmitter will allow adjustment from a remote position.
