May 2006

Babylon Industries, an established manufacture and supplier of workwear solutions and other products, has recently installed a large single line outdoor LED display on the fascia of their building/retail store on a main corner on Woodville Road, Villawood.

The LED display features:

- Displays 26 Characters at one time

The display utilises Computronics Line Manager Software, allowing Babylon staff to program the sign to display messages that can scroll across, roll up, roll down, flash, and jump.

Babylon is using their new sign to display advertising, welcome messages, the current time and more.
